

AN ITALIAN CAPTAIN

Cured by Pe-ru-na of Catarrh of the Stomach After Doctors Failed.

Hon. J. D. Botkin, Congressman from Kansas, Writes an Interesting Letter.

CAPTAIN O. BERTOLETTO.

Captain O. Bertolotto of the Italian Barque "Lancelotti" in a recent letter from the chief office of the Italian Barque Linces, Pensacola, Fla., writes:

"I have suffered for several years with chronic catarrh of the stomach. The doctors prescribed for me without my receiving the least benefit through one of your pamphlets I began the use of Peruna, and two bottles have entirely cured me. I recommend Peruna to all my friends."—O. Bertolotto.

In catarrh of the stomach, as well as catarrh of any part of the body, Peruna is the remedy. As has been often said, if Peruna will cure catarrh of one part it will cure catarrh of any other part of the body.

ALTON BOYS ARMED WITH ROCKS DROVE DOG CATCHERS OUT OF TOWN

Then They Stormed the Pound and Released Fifteen Canine Prisoners—The Woful Tale of Charles Schumacher and Henry Schwallensticher.

Charles Schumacher of St. Louis, who has been acting in the capacity of dog catcher in the city of Alton for the past week, has been run out of the city by the small boys of Alton.

Schumacher says that he would rather face a band of Philistines than a mob of Alton boys armed with rocks.

Schumacher went to Alton on Tuesday and was given the contract for clearing the city of all canines minus the regular dog tax. He was given an assistant in the person of Henry Schwallensticher.

Schwallensticher, or "Swanne," as he is known by the small boys, has been the dog catcher in Alton for 20 years, and there is not a man or boy in the city who does not know him, in this capacity and no other.

When the pair started out with their dogs, the sight of "Swanne" the dog catcher, who had been in the city for so long, and the small boys started pesterling the dog catchers with rocks.

Police protection was extended, but the police could not always follow the dog catchers, and life became so miserable that Schumacher gave it up last night.

On Wednesday morning the dog catchers went out into the district known as "Gout Hill."

There are many boys residing in this district, and as the glass works are now shut down, the youngsters are lacking of occupation. The arrival of the dog catcher made Schumacher determine to give it up.

When the dog catchers reached "Gout Hill" at about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the small boys were there, and Schumacher and his assistant were surrounded by a mob of boys, many of whom were armed with rocks, and a gatling gun could shoot out.

Schumacher and "Swanne" ran for their lives, and only stopped when they reached the police station.

Schumacher had no sooner arrived than a messenger confronted him with the news that the boys had opened the dog pound, and released the fifteen dogs which he had caught three days before.

This was too much for the dog catcher, and he retired to the sand bar to live in seclusion until the next dog catcher comes to Alton.

The small boys of Alton are laughing in their glee. It is the third successive year that the dog catchers have been run out of town, and it is also the third year that the dog catchers have been run out of town.

Catarrh is catarrh wherever located, and the remedy that will cure it anywhere will cure it everywhere.

The following letter from Congressman Botkin speaks for itself:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Dr. R. B. Hartman, Columbus, O.

My Dear Doctor:—It gives me pleasure to certify to the excellent curative qualities of your medicine.

Peruna and M. A. N. I have been afflicted more or less for a quarter of a century with catarrh of the stomach, and a number of complete cures.

A residence in Washington has increased these troubles. A few bottles of your medicine have given me almost complete relief.

I am sure that a continuation of them will effect a permanent cure. Peruna is surely a wonderful remedy for catarrhal affections.—J. D. Botkin.

This is a case of catarrh of the stomach which had run for twenty-five years, according to his statement, and Peruna has at once come to his relief, promptly accomplishing for him more benefit than he had been able to find in all other remedies during a quarter of a century.

It stands to reason that a man of wealth and influence, like a Congressman of the great United States, has left no ordinary means untried and no stone unturned to find a cure.

If such cures as these do not verify the claim not only that dyspepsia is due to catarrh of the stomach, but also that Peruna will cure catarrh of the stomach, it is impossible to imagine how any evidence could do so.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Where he is and what he is doing today is most interesting.

Sheriff Cuddehe has recalled all guards to the city, and the bloodhounds are now held at the county jail in readiness for a new start when the trace of the fugitive is obtained.

Tracy is simply fooling with his pursuers. Instead of being caught on the lake, into which he was chased, he simply rowed to a more congenial spot, landed and disappeared.

While the pursuing party was surrounding the Gerold house, he was having a pleasant time inside. He enjoyed dinner with the family and Miss Mary Baker and Mrs. W. J. McKinney. He had found Miss Baker and Mrs. McKinney picking berries along the railroad track, and he took them to the house with him.

"Look out, there," said Tracy to the women. "That's always the way, reporters with photographers always a mile ahead of the posse. I'm feeling from them, not the man hunter."

CHILD TRUSTED HIM.

When Tracy left the house, he simply walked away, keeping in the shelter of some berry bushes, but he was clever enough to make the guards believe that the house think he was one of the deputy sheriffs.

It is remarkable that Mrs. Gerold's little daughter trusted Tracy implicitly, and when the deputies were surrounding the house, she went to him for protection.

It was probably fifteen minutes after Tracy departed that the second posse with bloodhounds arrived.

The dogs had a trouble in taking the trail, and when they got to the southern end of Lake Washington, Tracy waved his cap to his pursuers.

About this time, he gave them all the slip by going into the water, and out again, without troubling to avoid spectators, he swung around into the water and passed in plain sight of fifty men, women and children who yelled and applauded him.

He turned his course along the west side of Lake Washington and took to the brush near Burroughs' boat house. At midnight, the hunt was dropped for the night.

HOUSES FIND TRAIL.

Early this morning the houses had no trouble in picking up the trail near the boat house, but the probabilities are that Tracy went directly north and passed through Seattle.

There was nothing to prevent him from the courts. He has the whole country terrified and the mere mention of his name is enough to cause consternation in a crowd.

As an illustration of this fear of him, some wagons at a Renton car last night saw a deputy walking on the track and they called out:

"There's Tracy."

The deputy ran like a deer, while other deputies who were on a car tried to conceal their rifles.

Tracy said yesterday:

"If I'm not run down Wednesday, I'm safe."

What he meant no one knows. This remark was made in conversation with Miss Baker at the Gerold house.

Tracy is more daring at present than one deputy will kill another than that anyone will kill Tracy.

OUTLAW MAKES FRIENDS.

Tracy is fast gaining friends.

Western men seem to be in admiration of him, and the way persons in Renton cheered him in his flight gives some idea of the use of the law in this favor.

The noses are ridiculed for allowing Tracy to get away from them and time and again.

"I want the newspaper to correct the statement that I killed my mother," he declared yesterday.

OUTLAW TRACY MAY BE INSANE

Terrible Strain, It Is Said, Has Wrecked Mind.

BUT HE APPEARS TO BE ALERT

AFFLICTION HAS NOT PREVENTED HIM FROM PROTECTING HIMSELF.

Populace Cheered the Murderous Convict When He Eluded the Posse, as It Thought It Surely Had Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 10.—It is now believed that Harry Tracy is mad—that his mind has been broken under the strain of his daring flight for life, covering a month of time and nearly 500 miles of distance, with fighting all the way.

This report has only served to increase the terror of the murderous desperado's name.

If he is really mad, his ability to elude his pursuers is remarkable.

His actions are those of a man with all his faculties keenly alert.

ROME WILL NOT EXPULSION FRIARS

On This Point the Vatican Is Unyielding.

POPE'S REPLY WAS PROMPT
IT REACHED GOV. TAFT SIX DAYS
AFTER HIS PROPOSALS.

Treaty of Twelve Articles, Covering
All Other Points of Philippine Controversy, Submitted to Representatives of the United States.

ROME, July 10.—The Vatican has agreed, in its reply to Gov. Taft's proposals, to agree to all his Philippine propositions except that relating to the withdrawal of the friars within a given period of time. The note of reply, which came in six days after the forwarding of Gov. Taft's communication, states flatly that the proposed recall of the friars within a fixed period cannot be consented to. Such action, it is stated, would bring the holy see into imminent conflict with Spain.

"If the United States cannot order the withdrawal of the friars," the note asks, "how can the Pope do so, especially when it has been proven that all the accusations against them were partly false, partly exaggerated and partly incorrect?"

The only concession which the Vatican will offer is contained in the promise that clergy of other nationalities will be introduced into the Philippines as rapidly as possible.

It is agreed that friars who have had trouble in certain parishes shall not return to those parishes, or go where their presence would be likely to provoke trouble.

The school question should be arbitrated, but does not insist that this shall be done immediately.

The haste with which the reply was forwarded to Gov. Taft was at the instance of the Pope, who wished to demonstrate that the Vatican could work quickly.

Twelve articles are contained in the agreement which the representatives of the Vatican propose to sign with those of the United States.

The first article says the Philippine government is to buy the lands of the four religious orders concerned, the holy see acting as intermediary.

The second article describes what are the agricultural lands to be bought.

The third article says that if some of these lands are possessed by corporations the friars will sell their share.

The fourth article establishes a tribunal of arbiters, to be composed of five members, two of whom are to be chosen by the Vatican, two by the Philippine government and the fifth member by the other four. In case of disagreement as to the fifth member, he shall be chosen in common accord by the Pope and President Roosevelt.

The fifth article provides that the work of the arbiters shall begin January 1, 1903.

The sixth article refers to title deeds. These will be transferred to the Philippine government.

Article 7 sets forth that payment is to be made in Mexican dollars in the period of time proposed by Judge Taft in his note of July 3, interest during the period of payment accruing at 4 per cent.

Article 8 deals with the transfer to the church of ancient crown lands with ecclesiastical buildings on them.

The ninth article proposes amicable accord in the matter of existing charitable or educational trusts, which are in dispute. In the event of failure to agree in these matters, recourse is to be had to the same arbiters to whom will also be submitted the case of the medical college of San Jose at Manila.

The tenth article provides for arbitration as to the indemnity the United States shall pay for the ecclesiastical buildings used during the war in the Philippines.

According to the eleventh article, the expenses of the tribunal of arbiters is to be paid by the Philippine government.

Article 12 declares that the holy see, in the sphere of action which is in its competence, shall use its influence for the pacification of the Philippine islands, and in favor of the admission to the established government, and that it shall prevent all political opposition on the part of the clergy, both regular and secular.

Porto Rican Exports Increase.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, July 10.—Exports from Porto Rico to foreign countries for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1902, total $1,000,000, over the total of such exports for last year. The increase in the islands' exports to the United States was $1,000,000 over the total for the last fiscal year. Sugar, tobacco and hides formed the principal articles of export. The customs receipts for the last fiscal year reached $800,000, and the balance from the insular revenues was increased by $200,000.

MORGAN WELDED TO RUSSELL SAGE

Sudden Truce Followed Unexpected Hostilities.

WALL STREET FEARED BATTLE

INCIDENT PROVED TO BE A GENTLE REMINDER.

Uncle Russell Had Been Left Out of Bond Issue Syndicate and Temporarily Joined in Suit to Prevent Deal.

HOW WALL STREET PASSED
SIX STRENUOUS HOURS.

10 a. m.—Wall street started by official statement that Russell Sage will join suit to prevent the United States Steel Corporation from converting $200,000,000 preferred stock into 5 per cent bonds.

10:15 a. m.—Mr. Sage writes to George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co. notifying him that he had become a party to the suit. He thought matters might be arranged through.

10:30 a. m.—Battle between Sage and Morgan millions reported to have begun. Intense excitement.

Noon.—Mr. Perkins calls on Mr. Sage at Mr. Sage's office.

2 p. m.—Mr. Sage denies that he is a party to the suit.

4:15 p. m.—Mr. Sage sends his proxy to Mr. Morgan to vote for the bonds, and so wishes to withdraw from the suit.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Russell Sage has given Wall street a practical lesson in the art of high finance. He has been a financier over 50 years, and now his net profits are roughly estimated at $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 a year on original investment of less than $10,000.

The financial world was startled by an official statement issued by his lawyers that Mr. Sage had become a party in the suit recently brought in New Jersey to restrain the steel trust from converting $200,000,000 of preferred stock into 5 per cent bonds.

Wall street had not taken the suit seriously. The announcement that Russell Sage had become a plaintiff, however, gave dignity and importance to the action. Wall street saw itself face to face with a battle of millions. Sage vs. Morgan.

Wall street shook in its boots and the voice of the ticker was tremulous with excitement.

The suspense was brief. In an hour or so there was sent out an official denial of the statement that Russell Sage was a plaintiff in the suit.

A sigh of relief went up throughout the financial district but Wall street doubted and was puzzled. The announcement of his participation in the suit had been equally positive and official. Careful investigation by the Post-Dispatch reveals the following facts:

Russell Sage did authorize the bringing of himself into the suit as plaintiff, and the necessary papers were filed before Vice Chancellor Emery at Newark.

Mr. Sage sent word to George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co. that he was aggrieved because he had not been included in the syndicate formed to underwrite the new issue of 5 per cent bonds. He said, however, that he thought the whole matter might be arranged through.

Mr. Perkins sent word to Mr. Sage that he would be glad to call upon him at any hour he might name.

The hour was set at noon. At that hour Mr. Perkins called on Mr. Sage. The conference was brief. Mr. Perkins emerged smiling. Shortly thereafter positive denials were issued of Mr. Sage's participation in the suit.

Wall street is asking itself to what extent Mr. Sage will participate in the underwriting syndicate.

However, Mr. Sage's lawyers at this hour announce that Mr. Sage made a mistake when he said that he was going to participate in the suit. I hereby request you to take the necessary proceedings to withdraw my name as plaintiff.

MRS. O'MALLEY IN HER OWN DEFENSE

Young Bride Denounces the Poison Charge.

WOULD NOT INJURE HUSBAND

THINKS PUBLIC WILL THINK BETTER OF HER.

Post-Dispatch Correspondent, Who Interviewed Her, Describes Her Interesting Personality, Being Most Impressed With Her Girlishness.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—"The report that I sought to poison Prof. O'Malley is not only false, but it is cruel. I never intended or attempted to harm Prof. O'Malley, whatever else may be said. "I am confident that when the full facts connected with my arrest are known I shall be fully vindicated. That is all I care to say now."

In these words Aline Ellis O'Malley answered questions put by the Post-Dispatch correspondent bearing on the story that she had been suspected of attempting to poison her husband.

Mrs. O'Malley made her denial before going into court for her preliminary hearing.

VERY SELF-POSSESSED.

The girl—she is nothing more in spite of her 28 years—was very self-possessed, and made no comment concerning her case further than to deny the charge, supplementing it with the request that her denial be made "as strong as you please."

The girl, as she appeared today in her cell, did not suggest the fancy pictures of her that have been printed in some of the newspapers.

She is of average height, probably five feet six inches, and weighs about 135 pounds. She has a wealth of blue-black hair, combed in a tumbled mass in front. Her eyes are brown and large, and her features small and regular.

The expression of her face is that of child-like frankness. She does not appear to be more than 18 or 19 years old, were it not for her extreme self-possession.

HEARIN IS MAINLY.

In another part of the prison her lover, William M. Hearin, is detained. He is a manly-looking youth of 19, not 21, as has been reported.

He is much more reticent than Mrs. O'Malley, and his only answer is for her. He said to his lawyers today that he did not care what was done with him, but he wanted Mrs. O'Malley cleared of all responsibility in connection with the alleged larceny of the jewelry which they are jointly accused of conspiring to steal.

HEARING SET FOR TODAY.

They are to answer this charge this afternoon, and there is every reason to believe that they will be admitted to bail.

It is not probable that any mention of the unsubstantiated theory that Mrs. O'Malley was in any way connected with her husband's disappearance will be made during the court proceedings, or that any attempt will be made to prevent the release of Mrs. O'Malley, young Hearin or her father, whose relatives are expected to provide.

WHAT FIRST CHARGE WAS.

The first charge against Mrs. O'Malley and Hearin was stealing jewelry belonging to the wife of Dr. O'Malley.

This was afterwards changed to a charge for stealing jewelry belonging to Prof. O'Malley, the invalid husband.

Mrs. O'Malley, since her arrest, had admitted that she took the jewelry, but says she had a right to it, as it was the property of her husband.

Some of the jewelry belongs to the parents of young Hearin.

Mrs. O'Malley has told her lawyer that she could not endure remaining in the house of Dr. O'Malley or to continue in her role as wife.

MARRIAGE NOT PLEASANT.

She has not denied in her talks with her legal adviser that she found an extreme incompatibility of temperament between her studious husband and herself, though she does not even now admit that she holds more than a friendly regard for Hearin.

She says she merely intended to use Hearin as an agent in escaping from the house of her brother-in-law. That she did intend to leave Philadelphia, where her husband is an invalid, she does not deny. It was from Indiana that she suggested that Prof. O'Malley was a victim of poisoning was first made.

District Attorney Clarke of South Bend, is a personal friend of Prof. O'Malley and accompanied him on the way to Philadelphia, when it was decided to take him there for treatment.

Clarke is looked to by the Philadelphia authorities to produce evidence of the poisoning of Prof. O'Malley if he can. Unless Prof. O'Malley should die the poisoning theory will be disregarded.

TO ASK FOR AN INDICTMENT.

South Bend Prosecutor Comments on the O'Malley Evidence.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 10.—"I believe we have evidence sufficient to ask for the indictment of Mrs. Aline Ellis O'Malley for attempting to take her husband's life by arsenic poisoning," said State's Attorney George E. Clarke today.

"The evidence will be submitted to the next grand jury, that is certain."

WOMAN STOWAWAY FREED.

She Accompanied Son By Hiding on Shipboard.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Notwithstanding that the woman was a stowaway and without means, the board of special inquiry at the immigrant station has given to Louise Schaller her liberty and remitted her fine.

Mrs. Schaller, who found herself unable to support her 14-year-old son in Germany, told until she had saved up enough to send him to relatives in America. She accompanied him on board a steamer at Bremen, but was unable to bear the separation when visitors were ordered ashore, and accepted herself below. A relative promised to see that she would not become a public charge, and one of the stringent emigrant rules was relaxed in her favor.

Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic.

The first and only discovery in the history of chemistry known to turn gray hair back to its natural color and original color without dye, it is the natural, live coloring matter of the hair, increasing and giving it circulation. It tones up the debilitated nerve force and the torpid glands to a healthy reaction, curing all diseases of the scalp. It creates a luxuriant growth, stops hair falling out from 24 hours to one week of its action. It cures itching, dandruff, or any other infestation of the scalp. It is a perfect hair dressing, rendering the hair glossy and lustrous, and it is a perfect hair tonic.

LATIMER DEAD; CASE UNSOLVED

Brother Says Burglar Shot Brooklyn Man.

FAMILY STRIFE IS DENIED

WITNESSES SAW TWO MEN RUN FROM HOUSE.

Members of Family Are a Unit in Upholding Wife's Burglary Story and Police Are Unable to Act Further.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, July 10.—After several days of startling stories, the Latimer tragedy in Brooklyn has dropped into one of those commonplace affairs in which a man kills another and gets away.

Albert C. Latimer, who was attacked in his home at night and foully shot, died last night.

Today his brother, Bryan, denies all rumors, insinuations and alleged interviews—all of which have been sensational in the extreme.

"Every member of the family is firmly convinced that my brother was shot down by a burglar," said Bryan Latimer. "We have never thought otherwise. We are at peace with one another. There are no quarrels, there are no legal or other fights. We all realize that our brother was foully shot down by a burglar."

"He never said he was in bed when shot, never wrote, 'Give my love to my children, did not at any time say or write anything for he could not.'"

The family having thus put an end to rumors, the police find themselves utterly undone. Not a hint has been accomplished towards unravelling the mystery. Witnesses have been found who saw two men run from the Latimer house just as the screams for help were piercing the air. They made good their escape before the first policeman came in sight.

A New Calendar Out.—The general passenger department of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad has issued a beautiful calendar for 1902. It consists of six cardboard pages, prettily tied with ribbon. Each page bears a drawing of a scene of beauty. All but one are the heads of young women, each artistically done in colors. The days and weeks of two months appear on each sheet.

Young Girl Is Missing.—Flora Earnest, 16 years old, was reported to the police as being missing from her home at 1654 Papin street. She left home early Wednesday morning to go to work at the Imperial Laundry at 2801 Chouteau avenue. It was learned that she had given up her position there several days before. Her sister, Mrs. Williams, with whom the Earnest girl lived, asked the police to arrest her.

STRAIT TOLD ON
LOUIS DISBROW

He Nearly Collapsed at End of Hearing.

HELPED INTO HIS CARRIAGE

TRIED TO ATTACK COUNSEL WHO ARRAIGNED HIM.

Defense Did Not Offer Any Witnesses and the Court Bound Accused to Grandjury After Prosecutor's
Summing Up.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, July 10.—Louis A. Disbrow almost collapsed at the conclusion of his hearing yesterday, and was lifted into the carriage that bore him from the courtroom to the jail.

Contrary to general expectation, he did not introduce any evidence in his favor. His counsel rested when the state did so. The final session of this preliminary hearing was attended by excitement.

In his address to the court, prosecutor Smith alluded to Disbrow as having lied. The word was hardly out of his mouth when Disbrow attempted to assault the state's representative.

His hand was in a foot of the lawyer's neck when he sat down.

The attorney made a summing up, in which he asserted that Disbrow knew how "Dimple" Lawrence and Charles Foster had died, but had refused to enlighten the court.

He urged the court to hold him for the death of the two persons.

The court took the same view, and, as was related in the late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, he was bound over to the grandjury.

Had he not been permitted and Disbrow is in for a long jail term.

Who Parties to Tragedy Were.

Sarah ("Dimple") Lawrence, with whose murder Louis Disbrow is charged, is a niece of Judge C. H. Lawrence of the New York Supreme Court and also of George Schiller, the actor, whose sister was her mother.

"Dimple" was the oldest of three daughters. Her father occupies a head position in one of the leading New York trust companies. The family has always enjoyed a high position socially and has lived in luxury.

"Dimple" was a lineal descendant of the famous naval hero, a millionaire, the shipbuilder, and had an older brother who was in the United States navy. She was always held in high esteem although greatly inclined to outdoor sports. She was an expert swimmer, golfer and tennis player. Her last two years were spent as a pupil in the convent at Mount Vernon, N. Y. The developments show that her acquaintance with Disbrow had extended more than a year with the knowledge of her mother.

Louis A. Disbrow is the oldest son of Thomas H. Disbrow, a millionaire, the owner of the Richmond Hotel, a suburb of Brooklyn, where he has a residence. He is a grandson of Henry D. Perkins, multimillionaire, of Washington heights. He has two brothers, both engaged in the automobile business and highly respected, and two young sisters. He has always been a ward and at 15 years of age was placed by his father on a school training ship. About eight years ago, at the age of 14, he eloped with Miss Jesse Everett of a Brooklyn suburb, a child who was his first love. Disbrow's failure to support her, he was turned out of the house by his father-in-law, who took his daughter and her child to his own home.

Cool weather has greatly lessened the demand for ice among all classes. The free ice distributions are being restricted to those who are sick. This condition of temperature will not last long. The hot weather will be upon us in a few days and then there will be a cry for ice in the tenements. The demand must and will be met by the Post-Dispatch Free Ice Fund.

When the heat does come it will take many tons of ice a day to supply the needy sick and the babies. As "one swallow does not make summer," so one cool day does not insure a heatless summer. It will be not enough by and by. Send in your subscription to the fund now. Then the money will be there when it is most needed.

OPEN AIR EUCHE PARTY.

First of a Series for the Benefit of St. Alphonsus (Rock) Church.
An open air euche party will be given Friday evening on the grounds about St. Alphonsus (Rock) Church, Grand and Finney avenues. The committee in charge announces that in addition to the regular prizes an extra prize will be given for each ten persons attending. This party will be the first of a series of six euche parties to be given by the ladies of the parish to raise funds for the renovation of the church. New stained glass windows are being put in and other improvements made. The parties will be given every two weeks. It is estimated that the improvements on the church will cost $25,000.

Budweiser Club Outing.—The Budweiser club will hold their first select river excursion on the evening of July 30. The club was recently organized with the following officers and members: Fred Klute, president; W. Shultz, vice-president; C. Omein, treasurer; Wagner, secretary; F. Schuler, sergeant-at-arms; Members, A. Gullmeier, W. Hempe, T. Ostelle, M. Padley, C. Rosenbush, Kuhn, W. Oheim, W. Lorenzen and R. Billet.

WONDERFUL DANDERINE

MISS HELEN HART
935 KIMBARK AVE.
CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6, 1902.
Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago—Dear Sirs: I have used your Danderine for nearly six months, and I think it is just fine. My hair now measures four feet and one inch and it was less than two feet long when I commenced to use your hair. I am going to keep it up and see just how long it will make my hair grow. Sincerely yours,

935 Kimbark Ave.
DANDERINE is absorbed most eagerly by the scalp, and its properties are so invigorating and strengthening that it makes the hair grow unusually thick and long. When applied to the scalp it is just as sure to produce an abundance of long, glossy hair as a fertile soil is to produce plenty of grain. The needs are sure. If it is working wonders everywhere. We guarantee that one box of it will do the hair good that a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. We give you the genuine, made only by The Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, Ill. $1.00, $2.00, $5.00, and $10.00 per bottle. All druggists keep Danderine or will order it for you if you ask them.

FREE to show how quickly Danderine acts. The Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends us this advertisement with their name and address and five cents in silver or stamps to pay postage.

FIVE BROTHERS FOUGHT ONE MAN

Corn and Hedge Knives and Pistols the Weapons.

NARROW PASSAGE THE SCENE
THERE JESSE PATTON BATTLED FOR HIS LIFE.

Two Assaults Were Wounded Before
He Was Shot, When Brothers
Fled, One Being Pursued
by a Posse.

From a Post-Dispatch Staff Correspondent.
SKIDMORE, Mo., July 10.—A family feud, which started a year ago in the locking of buggy wheels on a country road, culminated here Tuesday afternoon in a murderous attack by five brothers, Lee, Russ, El, Claude and Rue Peters, on Jesse Patton.

As was told in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, Patton was fatally shot, and is lying at the point of death.

El Peters' left arm was almost severed with a corn knife.

Joseph T. Tate's skull was fractured with a hedge club.

Four of the Peters brothers are under arrest. Lee Peters has not been captured. He is believed to be hiding in the timbered lowlands near his home. Posses are searching for him.

The Peters brothers, whose ages range from 17 to 30 years, Lee being the oldest, are sons of Theophilus Peters, a wealthy farmer.

The Peters' home is four miles from Skidmore.

Patton is a son of George Patton, a farmer of the same neighborhood.

How Trouble Was Started.

A year ago Patton and the youngest Peters boy met in bugles on the road. In passing, the wheels locked. The Peters boy used strong language. Miss Annabel Logan of Skidmore was with Patton.

Peters afterward apologized to Miss Logan, but would not apologize to Patton.

The boys met last winter at a revival meeting at the Methodist Church and quarreled.

They went outside and fought, and Peters was beaten. Since that there had been bitter feeling between the families.

Yesterday afternoon Patton was driving in the country with a boy named Wampler. They met two of the Peters boys on the road.

The latter tried to pull Patton out of the buggy. While they were scuffling Wampler lashed the horse and the brothers were thrown to the ground and run over.

They kept every body back behind the fence which was what happened. They armed themselves with corn knives, hedge clubs and revolvers, and started in pursuit of Patton, Lee on horseback and the other four in a car.

There was a chase all the way to town, but Patton was not overtaken.

Patton Sought Refuge in Town.

He leaped out of his buggy in front of the hardware store of French & Co., and was telling about the trouble when the five brothers ran up, having hitched their horses down the street.

Patton knocked two of them down with his fist. They crowded him into the store. He picked up a hedge knife, 4 feet long.

Four of the brothers rushed in after him. One of them had a hedge knife, one a corn knife and the other two hedge clubs.

Lead covered to with a revolver and he remained outside.

A terrific fight followed in a passageway not more than 2 feet wide.

The long blades clashed in the air. Twice Patton was hit on the head and once on the arm and twice he beat the four brothers back.

The corn knife was knocked out of Patton's hand. He caught up a hedge knife, which was so large that he had to use two hands to hold it.

Russ Peters had the same kind of a weapon.

A duel followed with the huge knives between these two, while the other three Peters boys were unable to get at Patton because the passageway was so narrow.

Patton saw an opening and brought the hedge knife down at his antagonist's head. The other dodged.

Struck by a Hedge Knife.

The blade split the rim of his hat and struck him in the breast. He dropped his weapon. El Peters rushed in with a corn knife. He received a blow which almost severed his left arm above the elbow.

Some say that he was accidentally struck by one of his brothers.

The brothers retreated and one of them ran to the door and called Lee. He sprang into the store and locked the door behind him.

One of the others had rushed in and struck Patton on the head with a club, knocking him to his hands and knees.

Lee walked up to him, and holding the revolver aimed against his body, fired.

The bullet struck him in the small of the back and passed almost completely through his body.

The Peters brothers left the store. The two who carried clubs both struck Tate, knocking him down and fracturing his skull.

Lee kept everything behind the fence which was what happened. They armed themselves with corn knives, hedge clubs and revolvers, and started in pursuit of Patton, Lee on horseback and the other four in a car.

There was a chase all the way to town, but Patton was not overtaken.

New Work for De Koven.

NEW YORK, July 10.—It is reported that a secret conference just held in New York City, at which De Koven signed a season contract.

dent of Thursday as well as four of the others occurred on Track No. 13, and three of them happened on Friday.

GREEN KHAKI FOR SOLDIERS.

Army Board Favors Radical Change in Uniforms.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Green khaki is the material selected by the army uniform board for the field costumes of American soldiers. The same material is to be used in making overcoats. The members of the board believe that the new hue will make it difficult for an enemy to see American soldiers.

The abandonment of the army cap and the substitution of the Italian army cap is also being considered.

New Catholic Parish.

Father C. F. O'Leary, pastor of the new Catholic parish at Wellston, announces that it will be called the Notre Dame parish. He says mass will be celebrated next Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the church at 1266 Klemm avenue and that a meeting of the members of the parish will be held at the parochial residence at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon to organize a parish association.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S QUEUE.

It Hid a Luxuriant Suit of Straight and Very Dark Hair.

The Father of his Country concealed a luxuriant suit of hair beneath his queue wig. Many now wish the old fashion were in vogue, to conceal thinned hair or baldness. Yet no one need have thin hair nor be bald, if he cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff cannot be cured by scouring the scalp, because it is a germ disease, and the germ has to be killed. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ—no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." There's no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ.

SIXTH BUMPER ACCIDENT

Terrific Crash at Union Station When
B. & O. Train Hit the Obstruction.

For the sixth time within a year one of the huge bumpers, placed along the end of the tracks at Union Station for the purpose of stopping trains whose speed has not been accurately calculated by the engineer, was torn from its foundation and wrecked almost completely by a Baltimore & Ohio train from the east at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

The crash was terrific. A bolt of iron weighing 25 pounds was hurled in the air and came within an inch of striking Gates John Hickey, who was standing about 10 feet from the bumper.

Broken pieces of timber flew in all directions, while the passengers, several of whom were women, received a severe shock. Recently one of the trains knocked down a bumper and then ran onto the Midway, almost to the door of the main waiting

AFFIDAVIT ON FILE IN THE CITY REGISTER'S OFFICE CITY HALL.

State of Missouri, City of St. Louis, ss:—
Personally appeared before me, a Notary Public in and for the City of St. Louis, Mo., W. C. Steigera, Business Manager of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, who deposes and says that the regular editions of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for the last three months (February, March and April, 1902), after deducting all copies returned by newspapers and copies left over, spoiled in printing and unaccounted for, averaged, Sunday $22,000, Daily and Sunday, $22,000, in the City of St. Louis sales averaged $6,382.
W. C. STEIGERA, Business Manager.
Sworn to and subscribed to before me this 23d day of May, 1902.
HARRY M. DUHRING,
Notary Public, City of St. Louis, Mo.
(Seal) My term expires Aug. 14, 1905.

The beef combine proposes to evade the anti-trust law by forming a trust.

If the Cuban lamb is muddling the stream we shall certainly have to eat the wicked little thing.

There seems to be an impression over in Illinois that Gov. Yates has mislaid his merit system.

The attorney-general of Illinois is after the Beef Trust—almost as far after it as the attorney-general of Missouri.

A Washington writer observes that Senator Hanna's mind rests on an even keel. The senator's extraordinary efforts for a ship subsidy may have suggested this beautiful simile.

POISONOUS MILK.

The discovery of contaminated milk in the supply furnished for use in the City Hospital emphasizes the need of a thorough and effective law and gives sharper point to all the Post-Dispatch has said on the subject.

So bad is the stuff that Supt. Nietz has ordered patients fed on diets other than milk. Examination shows that the milk is inhabited by millions of vicious bacteria, is foul with dirt and contaminated with the impurities of cans not sterilized. Already several patients have suffered aggravation of their maladies in consequence and one may die.

It is a question whether health and life shall be first in the regard of the Municipal Assembly or shall be postponed to the interest of a few dishonest milk dealers.

The milk ordinance of 1888 has been held void by the Supreme Court and there is no defense against the rascality.

Several months ago Assistant Health Commissioner Francis drafted an ordinance placing the enforcement of the law in the hands of the city chemist, but the sanitary committee of the council yielded to the protest of the dairymen and the ordinance was pigeonholed.

Public safety demands immediate action on this ordinance. Objection can arise from no good motive. The health of invalids and helpless babies must not be sacrificed to the greed of men who sell deadly milk.

The cries of "railroad," "lobby" and "passage" in the judicial convention at Springfield are a reminder of the statement by a frank official of one of the great railroad lines that he would not think of taking a railroad case into a court whose judge had not been provided with a pass.

PROFESSIONAL HOUSEKEEPERS.

The professional housekeeper is the latest victory of progress. Sometimes she runs a co-operative establishment, but often the professional housekeeper runs an individual household on strictly scientific principles.

Marietta Holiday Gibson—housekeeper of Fisk Hall, Columbia College, speaks thus of this official's requisites:

The model housekeeper has a liberal education to begin with. She knows chemistry and that too prolonged a bath of hot water on tea makes extract of tannin. She knows of domestic economy and can make six different dishes out of the remains of a two-pound steak, thus circumventing the Meat Trust. She has the artistic faculty and can decorate every dish, even boiled tripe, a la jardiniere. The anatomy of the cow is known to her. She has a head for system. She knows every detail of her work—and can do it all with her details together—which is more important. Last of all, she can manage six servants, if she has them, so perfectly that every day's work represents a harmony for body and mind.

Moreover, the professional housekeeper must be a woman of breeding—lady. She must be qualified to act as counselor to the mistress of the house, in social as well as domestic matters. In view of the multiplication of millions in this country, the professional housekeeper has a great future. Women well qualified, socially and educationally, ought to flourish in such conditions.

The meeting of the German Turners recalls their earnest protest against the policy of conquest of this government and against every attempt toward extending the domain of the United States by force. There are no more genuine Americans than the Turners.

THE PRESIDENT'S OWN STANDARD.

"Words are good if they are backed up by deeds, and only so" is the high standard of political judgment which President Roosevelt laid down in his Pittsburgh speech.

How does the President hope to succeed in his anti-monopoly campaign—by words or deeds?

The President appealed to the Congress absolutely controlled by his party, and Congress did nothing.

He started the attorney-general after the railroad merger and the beef combine, but the attorney-general has accomplished nothing.

What will the President do to prove the sincerity of his words and his power to convert them into deeds?

Will he get one monopoly combine "regulated" by the courts? Or one lawless monopolist fined or imprisoned?

The public, according to the President's own rule, must have something besides words.

WHICH?

A mighty contest is about to take place off Long Island Sound. The army and navy will compete to see how much news they can keep from the newspapers, to determine which is the stronger—the press or the press censor. The experiment will be tried by Secretary of the Navy Moody to see if it is not possible to prevent news "leaks" in war time, and the rules of war will be strictly applied during the contest. If any news of importance is allowed to get out, the official who is held responsible will be severely reprimanded by his department. This will be no sham battle between intellects; it will be in sober earnest.

The army is a great power, and so is the navy; and again, an American power. In the hands of men entirely great, the pen is mightier than the sword. Certain great trouble has been made for army and navy by one of war by shrewd and energetic correspondence.

from whom even the most important secrets could not be wholly concealed, even by diplomatic falsehoods. Some of the correspondence was entirely great in their line, according to specifications, and they triumphed over the censor. What they have done in time of war, when every man's mind is on a wire edge, they can certainly do in these plating times of peace. This will be a bloodless battle, but a notable one, for the press and the press censor are hereditary enemies.

The defeat of Judge Sherwood, who has always been supported by the corporation interests of Missouri, indicates that the railroads were not as strong in the Springfield convention as they have been in other Democratic judicial conventions. But Judge Sherwood is a strong man—strong in convictions and in the knowledge and understanding of the law. Much of the law of Missouri as it stands in the courts has been written by him. In the renomination of Judges Burgess and Valliant, the expected came to pass. There was no special significance in their success.

THE TERMINAL FRANCHISE BILL.

The terminal franchise bill introduced in the Council Wednesday offers excellent opportunity for the municipal administration to prove its business capacity and its loyalty to public interests in dealing with franchise grants. The franchise sought is at this period in the city's history of enormous value and vitally affects the public and especially the commercial interests.

There should be no concealments about the bill. The interests back of it, the precise purposes for which the franchise is sought and the conditions upon which it will be used should be carefully defined in the measure.

St. Louis is greatly in need of additional terminal facilities. The commerce of the city is hampered by the lack of them. But commerce is also throttled by monopoly terminals and by conditions in terminal business which have been handed down from the past when the city was small and when, in order to get any facilities, the business men placed their necks under the yoke of the bridge and terminal monopoly.

Certain conditions to the granting of the ordinance are essential to the free growth and full prosperity of St. Louis:

There must be adequate compensation to the city.

The terms upon which the franchise is to be operated must conduce to the public interest, not strengthen an oppressive monopoly.

The franchise should not extend beyond twenty-five years, with a provision for ultimate municipal ownership.

There must be no surface crossings of thoroughfares.

St. Louis must be the terminal point of all St. Louis business.

All arbitrary monopoly charges must be abolished.

There must be no more cutting up of Forest Park with permanent railroad tracks.

Until the pending bill can be carefully examined, it is not possible to tell how nearly it meets these conditions. But the St. Louis people should insist that the vital points of the public interest shall be guarded before a single privilege is granted.

The business men of St. Louis are deeply interested in every franchise granted for terminal facilities. The growth of St. Louis depends upon these facilities.

The business men should study this bill and see that their interests are protected. They should take hold of the question with a determination to defeat any franchise grant that does not conserve the interests of the community.

The complaint of an East St. Louis woman that her cooks all leave her to get married will greatly encourage young women who know how to cook. The useless girls may not be the first to get husbands, after all.

The railroads are said to be purchasing great quantities of soft coal. In anticipation of a strike of the bituminous miners. What a relief Texas oil would now be if it could be had by all the railroads.

There is said to be a perfect understanding between Roosevelt and Hanna as to the presidential nomination of their party, but nobody seems to understand just what the understanding is.

If Aguinaldo is coming to the United States to lecture he will be expected to say something interesting in regard to Admiral Dewey's assertion that he was a looter.

The best news that comes from Camp Wells is that which tells of the good behavior of the men. Such men would be good soldiers in time of need.

Little more than a third of an apple crop is expected in Missouri, but as nearly all other crop reports are favorable we have reason to rejoice.

It will be far better if great monopolies can be checked by the courts than if they should have to be reached in some other ways.

Why worry about a successor to Gen. Miles? What is the matter with Gen. Jake Smith for Lieutenant-general?

To Gen. Miles snub have become plentiful as blackberries, but there are not so many reasons for them.

The great droughts and the great floods both try to tell mankind that water must be stored.

Mr. Littlefield has a very large field in his fight against trusts.

In a few days the delicious Missouri melon will be in St. Louis. We have had to wait for it, but has there ever been a melon better worth waiting for?

Secretary Shaw's opinion that no federal officer can continue to act with the same efficiency after the lapse of a few years is important to officials in the Treasury Department. He may yet go farther and say that every official should be shot after five years' service.

That $200,000,000 Surplus.

From the New York World.

According to the official figures, there is a surplus in the United States treasury of over $200,000,000.

That is to say, the government has collected from the people nearly $2 per capita more than it needed to meet all its expenditures. Every family of five persons in the country is nearly $10 poorer because of this unnecessary taxation. And taxation that is unnecessary is unjust.

This $200,000,000 surplus is one-third of the year's total ordinary expenditures, even at the present enormous rate of $6,000,000 a year. It is more than twice the total ordinary expenditures of the government for the last year of Mr. Cleveland's second term (1896-97).

Surplus of this unprecedented size is wasteful in two ways: (1) Directly, by locking up $200,000,000 of money which, at only 4 per cent, if left in the pockets of the people and kept in circulation, would earn $8,000,000 a year; (2) Indirectly by inviting and encouraging unnecessary and extravagant appropriations.

Just A Minute

WITH THE POST-DISPATCH
DOET AND PHILOSOPHER

THE WISE GUY.

He kept the racing tickets which they wouldn't let him cash.

Though some in anger tore them up, regarding them as trash.

And when the season ended and he quit the foolish game.

He grouped them all together in a neat, artistic frame.

And viewed them retrospectively, with vintage glum and sad.

Then placed this legend underneath:

SOME GOLDEN DREAMS I'VE HAD.

And then about the city, in a sad and silent mood.

He wandered, as a dreamer does, who walks in solitude.

He didn't whoop 'em up a bit; he didn't scold.

His poignant grief by buying drinks for every dub in town.

No—he was wise, although misfortune on him had the clamps.

He thought, I may say in all confidence that everything in that direction is altogether in the prospective.

Vacations.

The man who has never experienced the delights of a week's vacation has never lived up to the limit of human happiness.

Of course, if he is a miser, whose face hurts him every time he spends a nickel, or a tightwad, who could never forgive himself if he should part with a dollar, he is not included in this list, for the miser and the tightwad are not men; they are only formed in the image of man.

But you take the average man, who has to work for a living and who knows what it is to toil unremittently, year after year, for a reasonable number of dollars, and turn him loose for a week with a nice bunch of transportation and a few greenbacks, and there you have a man who is truly happy.

He may not go very far, and he knows he won't stay long, but while he is away, oh, what a time he does have! He may have to guard his dollars hawkishly to keep them from getting away too fast, and he may have to deny himself a few of the pleasures he craves, but all the time he is enjoying himself more than a millionaire in a steam yacht. He may do all of his riding in street cars wherever he goes, but he is having more fun than an Astorbilt in an automobile.

He is enjoying his vacation because he has earned it, and because it is a rarity. He is like a boy with a new drum or sled. He is trying to get the best of a good thing while it lasts, while it is a novelty.

The employer who gives his men a vacation invariably realizes 50 per cent on the value of his investment. Vacations not only bring health and happiness, but they make men grateful, and gratefulness breeds loyalty.

By the Sad Sea Waves.

Although at Newport there may be All kinds of rich divinities,

The doings of society Show only asinities.

Missouri melons and true happiness are coming in together.

A weather forecaster never becomes unpopular suddenly; always by degrees.

Mayer Wells "wants more boulevards," we are informed; and he is not alone in his desire.

A 16-year-old boy from Memphis, Mo., ran away from home to take a chance with the great world because his father forbade him to attend church. This pious youth will doubtless be a shining light at the Church of the Holy Ghost in the City of Fair; and he is Missouri bred, at that.

THE FIRST DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

Not every student of American history is aware that the declaration of independence signed at Philadelphia on July 4, 1776, is just old enough to remember.

It is interesting to recall that at least one distinguished Englishman carried the eighteenth-century tradition, as regards both manners and speech, down to a considerably later date than the period of Mr. Russell's reminiscence. Walter Savage Landor, who died in 1841, said "good" "yaller" and "obedged" until the last day of his 90 years, not to speak of "daylock" for "yellow" and all the other test words of the real persons of quality three or four generations ago.

A Paralyzing Recipe.

A young lady visited a cooking school recently and her attention was divided between a dress worn by a friend and the direction for making a cake. So when she undertook to write the recipe for her mother the old lady was paralyzed to read the following: "Take two pounds of flour three cups of plating, seven cups of whites of two eggs, and cut bias, a milk ruffled round the neck half pound of currents, with seven yards of bead trimming, grated lemon peel of lace fabric; stir well and add a lime sifting pillow with vanilla leaves garnish with icing and pasterments. Bake in a moderately hot oven until the skirt is tucked from the waist down on either side and finish with large satin rosettes."

QUEEN'S (EARLY) ENGLISH.

Appropos of the great-grandmother whose antique pronunciations Mr. G. W. E. Russell is just old enough to remember.

Westminster Gazette. It is interesting to recall that at least one distinguished Englishman carried the eighteenth-century tradition, as regards both manners and speech, down to a considerably later date than the period of Mr. Russell's reminiscence. Walter Savage Landor, who died in 1841, said "good" "yaller" and "obedged" until the last day of his 90 years, not to speak of "daylock" for "yellow" and all the other test words of the real persons of quality three or four generations ago.

There is a Latin distich to this effect: "What is more fickle than the wind? Lightning. What than lightning? Fame. What than fame? A woman. What than woman? Nothing. The last answer should be—A man."

If you intend to use a horse a whole day and love for a lifetime, keep the reins taut in the morning.

One should not even in jest be discordant with the beloved. This is a part of the sanctity of love, not morbidity.

The Abbe Roux was asked, "What is love?" and he answered, "Two souls and one flesh." Love is anything but that! It is one soul and no flesh. Jealousy-Din told us long ago that the counterstrain at the door of love when he asked, "Who goeth there?" is not, "It is I!" but, "It is thyself!"

He gives a ripe apple for an apple blossom that changes an old love for a new.

Natural love feeds upon illusion, supernatural love upon reality. Give reality to the former and cut bias, a milk ruffled round the neck half pound of currents, with seven yards of bead trimming, grated lemon peel of lace fabric; stir well and add a lime sifting pillow with vanilla leaves garnish with icing and pasterments. Bake in a moderately hot oven until the skirt is tucked from the waist down on either side and finish with large satin rosettes.

The highest beauty has the quality of strength, hence is masculine. The greatest sculptors made it masculine, almost without exception. The first characteristic of even the Venus of Milo is power.

A common error is to confuse our complacency in receiving affection with love.

MECHANICS' EXCHANGE STARTS
A NEW CRUSADE.

NO MORE TELEPHONE BOXES

Effort to Prevent Outsiders From Getting Information Furnished by the Chicago Board of Trade.

The directors of the Merchants' Exchange have made another attempt to keep secret from the operators of bucket shops the quotations furnished by the Chicago Board of Trade. This time the move is at the expense of the convenience of the exchange members.

Hereafter there will be no more telephone boxes on the floor. Members must talk in the open and before any trader who may approach the phone.

While this move is extremely annoying to the directors as there was no other course to pursue as they are convinced their quotations were being sent away over the phone.

A little over six months ago representatives of bucket shops were caught reading the boards with the aid of powerful field glasses from a room across the west alley. In this room were also found a regular set of telegraph keys and a number of figures were transmitted to the various houses. It is now said the telephone game worked even more successfully.

Curious now cover the windows on the west side and the removal of the telephone boxes, it is thought, will correct the last evil.

BULLET CAUSED TETANUS.

Anti-Toxin Administered by Physicians—Fear Young McGroedy Will Die.

As the result of a Fourth of July celebration J. H. McGroedy, aged 15 years, of 207 Division street is at the City Hospital suffering with lockjaw.

The boy was using a pistol loaded presumably with blank cartridges. One of the cartridges didn't happen to be a blank and it struck the boy in the hand, inflicting a flesh wound.

On Saturday last tetanus developed, but the victim was not removed to the City Hospital till last night. Anti-toxin was administered. Dr. Nietert says this treatment should have been given in the first place. He does not think the boy can recover.

BOLT STRUCK HIM DOWN

Memphis Man Sought Shelter Under the Union Bridge Near Belleville.

During the storm a man named Edward McDonald, said to be a molder, took shelter under the Union Bridge, formerly used by the Southern Railway, just west of Belleville.

A bolt of lightning struck the bridge and McDonald fell unconscious and apparently dead.

William Schneider, who lives in the neighborhood, discovered the injured man and assisted in taking him to the home of Henry Hottenroth in St. Clair township. Here he partially revived.

Dr. Julius Kohl ordered the man taken to a hospital. His injuries, which are principally confined to his limbs, are not considered serious.

McDonald is a stranger in the city and came from Memphis, Tenn.

SUMMER SHOWS AND THEIR MAKERS

MISS CLARA ECKSTROM,
One of the beauties of the Delmar chorus, which forms the strongest part of that organization.

Owing to the rain yesterday afternoon and the threatening weather last night, the Pains' Pompeii didn't give an exhibition. When it rains Vesuvius can't blow up with any degree of satisfaction to itself or the spectators. Those of the general public who have never had the pleasure of witnessing one of these thrilling Pains exhibitions have no conception of the magnitude of these displays or spectacular beauty. Fully 800 people are utilized in this marvelous "Pompeii" spectacle, and for scores of massive scenery stand for a representation of the historical old Roman city at the foot of treacherous Vesuvius. Tickets not used last night are good tonight.

By special arrangement with the Augustus Daily estate "A Runaway Girl" will be produced for one week, commencing next Sunday night, by the Delmar opera company. This musical comedy, which has been presented in St. Louis on two different occasions, is one of a series of entertainments under the direction of George Edwards. The first of its kind, which may be said to have started the vogue which this class of productions enjoys today, was "The Gaiety Girl," and of the several other musical comedies which have been given successful presentations at both the London Gaiety and the principal theaters of this country, "A Runaway Girl" may be said to have enjoyed the largest continuous run at Daly's Theater, New York.

or about Monday, July 21. Band concerts in which only high-class music is programmed have not been in St. Louis in the summer time for many years. It is as Mr. McNulty's band, which is supplemented with capable solo work, instrumental as well as vocal, there seems little doubt that the cave will again be the scene of the evening for the evening for music lovers.

On July 20, Mr. Archie M. Cox, who has been the general business manager of the Delmar's Park this season, will resign to enter upon a broader field in the managerial line. Mr. Cox has been appointed by Messrs. Chamberlain and Kindt, who own and operate 15 theaters in Louisville, Ky., manager of their new theater at Rock Island, Ill. It is one of the largest and finest theaters in the Middle West, and the selection by them of Mr. Cox is a just recognition of his abilities. Mr. Cox is a native of St. Louis and during the past two years, where he managed the Delmar stock exchange company, and later, in his present position, he will remove his family to Rock Island at once and make that city his permanent home in the future.

The performance this week at the West End Heights is a good one and attracts the public to the new garden of Fred Warren and Al Blanchard are holding two receptions daily at the Heights, and Leona Thurburn, with her Dutch pickaninnies, Beale Gilbert, the Rossi Bros., and four other good turns auditors, and the latter are patronizing the newest place of amusement. Eva Mudge, the character artist, the American who captured England, and the usual number of seven first-class vaudeville will be the program for next week.

Creve Coeur Lake has had unusually large crowds for the last few days. The Brothers Boncourt are engaged for one more week. Their act is very clever and must be seen to be appreciated. Master Herbage, 11 years of age, is a prodigy. His comedy as well as acrobatic work is something out of the ordinary. Fritsch and his band give concerts daily.

Josephine Knapp will sing Zerlina, the prima donna role in "Fra Diavolo," at Delmar tonight, in place of Maud Williams, who returns to the coast Friday night. Miss Knapp will also play Dorothy Stanley in the Delmar production of "A Runaway Girl," next week.

The popularity of that clever singing and dancing duo, World and Hastings, is just as strong as ever, and they are very much in evidence this week at Mannion's Park. Another act which deserves special mention is that of Brazil and Brazil, whose equal a daring acrobats is seldom seen. Among next week's acts at this resort are those of Russell and Sylvia Wilson and Wilson, Miss Beale Gilbert and Leona Thurburn and her Dutch pickaninnies.

The policy of the Suburban to provide fresh entertainment for its patrons every Sunday afternoon and to hold none of the acts over from week to week is showing big results at the box office. Billy Van is of course a great cord. This season Van has a new monologue, and some fresh parodies that are worth while. Hugh Stanton and Florence Modena offer lively comedietta. "For Reform and Jessie" contribute the entertainingly told tale of her own sex. Wincherman's bears, sleek, well-trained brutes, add novelty to the program. As for the Novas, they are undoubtedly one of the best straight musical acts that has ever visited this city.

Henry E. Dixey, known to theatrical fans for a score of diverse accomplishments, has been secured for a week's engagement at the Suburban beginning next Sunday. Others on the bill will be Hal Dancy and the MacVoyes, the Two Punks Clayton, Jenkins and Jasper, and Karney's myrophane.

Olivia Vail is the headliner at Haskagen's Park this week. John and Florence Johnson are running a tight race with Miss Vail for first place. Florence Johnson is a sweet singer and is making many friends. For next week the two headliners are Kneitzer, the world's greatest hoop manipulator, and Fred Ross, the well-known baritone singer.

Blanche Chapman, who will sing the role of Lady Cooledge in the Delmar production of "A Runaway Girl" next week, is the proud possessor of a most valuable relic. Its history is measured by time. Several years ago Miss Chapman, while on a visit to Paris, was invited to join a party of friends who were to visit Chartres, one of the oldest towns in existence, and renowned as a Roman Catholic shrine. Several hundred years before Christ the Druids are said to have built there a costly grotto as a place of worship.

The cathedral was built on top of this Druid grotto in the year 490. The cathedral is decorated from end to end with the most valuable relics, chief among which is a small golden image which is pointed out by order of the Druid priests to be presented to the first virgin who would give birth to a son. Miss Chapman's relic is a small golden coin bearing the date 78 A. D. and was at some time a contribution to the support of the cathedral. The inscriptions on both sides are in Latin, and the figure of the Virgin Mary is inscribed on one side. A wreath of thorns and the date decorate the other side. In our money the size gold mitch represent $5.

PIGIRON OUTPUT SMALL.

Serious Shortage in Supply Is Not Expected.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Everything seems to conspire to keep the pig iron production below the full capacity of the country, says the Iron Age. Considering all the circumstances, the record of June, with an output of 1,475,486 gross tons, was a good one, and if everything goes well the July production should be considerably above the 1,500,000 ton mark. The anthracite coal strike is still troubling the Lehigh furnaces, and complaints are now becoming more frequent and more urgent that the coke makers who are running are not able to keep their customers regularly supplied. There is some scarcity of pig iron for steel manufacture, but it does not involve any serious shortage.

Interest centers in the foundry trade, and it appears to be the Chicago district which is monopolizing a large business for delivery in 1902. A furnace company there is reported to have sold 3,000 tons for the first half, thus, with previous sales, disposing of its entire production.

Further large inquiries, including one for 8,000 tons, are in that market. In the steel market matters are taking a somewhat different turn. In the central West the summer slackness in the wire and sheet trades is causing a shutting down of mills, which, in turn, are offering for sale both domestic and foreign iron and steel bars. In addition thereto quite a good deal of new capacity of open hearth steel is appearing on the markets. It looks, therefore, as though there may be an early readjustment in the steel trade, which will bring this raw material more in line with the finished products. The first effect of a lowering in the price probably will be a check in the importations. In the heavy finished products the great activity continues unabated. There are reports that some round blocks of English and German rails are being offered at prices which look as though they might lead to business.

In the plate trade the orders for the lake steamers have been booked. The shapers also have been ordered. The structural trade continues exceedingly active, and there is no sign of slackening. There is a distinctly weak feeling in sheets and in some places dullness in tin plate. The wire trade has been falling off in volume and a number of works have been forced to close down. In ironburg, too, there have been reports of shutting, while the tube trade is reported to be quiet.

Twenty Years Later.

From the Omaha Bee. Twenty years ago Omaha met its ambitious designs upon a $200,000 market house. After 15 years marketing in its present location, it has not been a success. It has cost about $100,000, and the architect's fee.

Charged.

From the Philadelphia Record. Telegraph Linesmen: Look out there! Those wires are charged and they'll shock you. Chicago: It's charged and they're charged. Using size your company's patrons I don't doubt the shocking part of it.
